7 injuries to Defendant Pacquiao. Once the true identities of said defendants are known the Plaintiffs
8 will seek leave of the Court to amend its complaint to name said defendants.
9

10 IV. VENUE

11 18. Venue in this action properly lies in this District, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Sec.1319(a) and 12 the Defendants are subject to personal jurisdiction in the District in which this action is filed.

13 V. CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

14 19. Plaintiffs brings this action on their own behalf, and as a class action on behalf of the 15 Class defined herein, pursuant to, and properly maintainable under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a) and Fed. R.
16 Civ. P 23 (b) (3). The Class consists of potentially hundreds of thousands of ticket purchasers; pay per 17 view purchasers and persons who wagered on the Mayweather-Pacquiao fight held May 2, 2015 (the 18 “Event”); which were victimized by Defendants’ failure to disclose and to cover up the injuries of 19 Defendant Pacquiao.
20

21 20. The Class consists of all persons who paid for tickets to the Event; purchased pay per 22 view showings or made wagers on the Event, which did not know that Defendant Pacquiao had been
23 seriously injured prior to the Event and that the Defendant did not disclose such information to the 24 general public or even to the Nevada Athletic Commission. In fact the Defendants made
25 misrepresentations in documents to the Nevada Athletic Commission that Defendant Pacquiao was not 26
27
28

1 injured. All members of the Class relied upon the misrepresentations and the non-disclosures in
2 purchasing tickets; purchasing pay per view showings; and in making wagers on the Event. The Class
3 excludes counsel representing the class and all persons employed by said counsel, governmental
4 entities, Defendants, any entity in which Defendants have a controlling interest, Defendants' officers,
5 directors, affiliates, legal representatives, employees, co-conspirators, successors, subsidiaries, and
6 assigns, any judicial officer presiding over this matter, the members of their immediate families and
7 judicial staff, and any individual whose interests are antagonistic to other class members.

8
9 21. Defendants subjected Plaintiffs and each of the Class members to unlawful practices
10 and harmed them in the same manner. Now, Plaintiffs and each Class Member seek to enforce their 11 rights and remedies pursuant to NRS 598; NRS 41.600; NRS 598A and other causes of actions as set
12 forth below, including but not limited to the equitable theory of Unjust Enrichment.

13 22. Numerosity: The proposed class is so numerous that individual joinder of all their 14 members is impracticable. While the exact number and identities of the Class Members are unknown
15 at this time, such information can be ascertained through appropriate investigation and discovery. It is 16 estimated that the Class consists of hundreds of thousands of members.

17
18 23. Typicality: Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of their respective Class
19 members in that she suffered similar damages resulting from a single course of conduct by 20 Defendants. Each of the class members asserts the same legal causes of action.

21 24. Adequacy of Representation: Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately represent and protect
22 the interests of the Class. Plaintiffs have retained counsel with substantial experience in prosecuting
23 complex lawsuits and class action litigation. Plaintiffs and their counsel are committed to vigorously
24 prosecuting this action on behalf of the class and have the financial resources to do so. Neither
25 Plaintiffs nor their counsel has any interests adverse to the Class.
26
27
28

1 25. Superiority of Class Action and Impracticability of Individual Actions: Plaintiffs and
2 the members of the Class suffered harm as a result of Defendants' unlawful and fraudulent conduct. A
3 class action is superior to other viable methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the 4 controversy. Individual joinder of all members of the Class is impracticable. The damages suffered by 5 the individual members of the Class will likely be relatively small, especially given the burden and
6 expense of individual prosecution of the complex litigation necessitated by the actions of Defendants.
7

8 It would be virtually impossible for the individual members of the Class to obtain effective
9 relief from Defendants' misconduct. Even if members of the Class could sustain such individual
10 litigation, it would still not be preferable to a class action, because individual litigation would increase
11 the delay and expense to all parties due to the complex legal and factual controversies presented in the 12 Complaint. By contrast, a class action presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the 13 benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale and comprehensive supervision by a single Court.
14 Economies of time, effort and expense will be fostered and uniformity of decisions ensured.
15

16 26. Commonality: There are questions of law and fact common to Plaintiffs and the class
17 that predominate over any questions affecting only the individual members of the class. The common
18 questions of law and fact include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 19 a. Whether Defendants withheld the information that Defendant Pacquiao had been 20 seriously injured prior to the Event;
- 21 b. Whether Defendants' actions violated the NRS 598; NRS 41.600; NRS 598A and other
22 causes of actions as set forth below, including but not limited to the equitable theory of Unjust
23 Enrichment;
- 24 c. Whether Defendants were unjustly enriched by its acts and omissions at the expense of 25 the Plaintiffs and the class;
26
27
28

- 1 d. Whether Plaintiffs and the putative class sustained damage and loss thereby;
- 2 e. The scope, extent and measure of damages and equitable relief that should be awarded;
- 3 and
- 4 f. Whether Defendant's acts and omission entitle Plaintiffs and the Class to treble
- 5 damages, attorneys' fees, prejudgment interest and cost of suit;

6 COUNT I

7 Fraudulent Concealment

8 27. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated, repeats and

9 realleges all prior allegations as if set forth at length herein.

10 28. Defendants prior to and at the time the Plaintiffs and the Class decided to purchase

11 tickets; purchase pay per view showings or wagered on the Event the Defendants knew and had full

12 knowledge and information that Defendant Pacquiao had been seriously injured and was suffering

13 from a torn rotator cuff. Defendants further know that such injury would severely affect his

14 performance in the Event.

15 29. None of the Defendants informed or apprised the public or even the Nevada Athletic

16 Commission about the injury to Defendant Pacquiao.

17 30. At all relevant times herein the Defendants, who had a duty to disclose the injury,

18 intentionally concealed and/or failed to disclose the aforementioned material facts to the Plaintiffs and

19 the Class.

20 31. Plaintiffs and the Class did in fact rely on the Defendants to disclose this information

21 which the Plaintiffs and the Class were unaware of at the time of the purchase of tickets; pay per view

22 showings and/or wagering on the Event.

22 have been damaged, and said Defendants have acted willfully, intentionally, maliciously and
23 fraudulently, with intent to deceive and defraud the Plaintiffs and the Class with great recklessness
24 and carelessness in total disregard of the consequences of their intentional actions upon Plaintiff and
25 the Class, thereby entitling the Plaintiffs and the Class to an additional award of damages in the 26 nature of punitive and/or exemplary damages in a sum subject to proof at time of trial.
27
